

Professor Zhao Zhengjie was a research professor at the Jilin Academy of Forestry (China). He was born on December 30, 1937, in Yanting County, Sichuan Province. He graduated from the Department of Biology, Sichuan University in Chengdu City, the capital city of Sichuan Province, in 1959. He then moved to Jilin Province and studied the avifauna of Changbai Mountain (Jilin Province) of Northeast China. He published over 80 research papers and edited several books, such as "Avifauna of Changbai Mountains", "Field Guide of Wildlife in Jilin", "Birds of Northeast China", and "Avifauna of China". He was a council member of the China Ornithological Society and a member of International Ornithological Committee. He died in December 27, 1999.

(Provided by Zhang Zhengwang, 18 October 2004)